JOB/TASK ANALYSIS: VOLUNTEER COORDINATOR, TALLAHASSEE ANIMAL SHELTER

ASSIGNMENT 3: JOB/TASK ANALYSIS

Eboni Jackson, Michael Pritchard, Rebecca Yost

EME 5601-0001
Introduction to Instructional Systems

Dr. Secil Cascurlu
Summer 2024

OVERVIEW/INTRODUCTION

The Volunteer Program Coordinator at the Tallahassee Animal Shelter (TAS) plays an important role in managing the shelter's robust volunteer program and overseeing the day-to-day operation of its volunteers, ensuring the well-being of volunteers and animals alike. This position is responsible for managing and promoting the shelter's volunteer program. This includes responding to received volunteer applications, managing the current volunteer schedule, and coordinating special events with the foster coordinator. Along with these responsibilities, the Volunteer Program Coordinator must conduct one-on-one onboarding with new volunteers, complete required legal documents, manage volunteer equipment and manage medical logs.

The TAS is the city-owned and operated animal adoption, surrender, and control service center for the City of Tallahassee. With a population of more than 196,000 as of the 2020 Census (U.S. Census Bureau, 2020), the City of Tallahassee intakes more than 5,000 animals per year and works to rehome, rehabilitate, adopt out, or humanely euthanize (in the case of behavior, medical reasons, or age) each of their animals. Tallahassee Animal Services has a full-time staff of eight (8) individuals and several part-time staff. With limited space and resources, the success of the TAS is heavily reliant upon its more than two hundred (200) community volunteers to provide adequate care for animals and inform potential adopters about the animals.

Volunteers at the TAS must be sixteen (16) years of age or older, commit to at least eight (8) hours of service per month for a minimum of three (3) consecutive months, and possess qualities such as dependability, good communication skills, and the ability to follow instructions in addition to reliable access to transportation and email (Tallahassee Animal Shelter, 2024a).

To become a volunteer, volunteers must complete an application which is available on the Tallahassee Animal Services website (Appendix A). After submission, the Volunteer Program Coordinator will review the document. If accepted, the Volunteer Program Coordinator will contact the applicant to schedule an interview. After passing the interview, the coordinator will schedule a time to do a tour and onboard the new volunteer. The onboarding process involves reading and signing the TAS Volunteer Agreement Form (Appendix B), signing the Volunteer Waiver (Appendix C), reviewing the Volunteer Manual (Appendix D), creating a profile in BetterImpact (Appendix E), and determining a preliminary work area and schedule (Appendix F).

There are several volunteer positions available (Tallahassee Animal Shelter, 2024a), including:

- Shelter Support Volunteer
- Canine Companion
- Playgroup Volunteer
- Feline Friend
- Animal Photographer
- Special Events Volunteer

The TAS also provides an opportunity for veterinary students to gain hands-on experience in animal welfare through the Vet Team Volunteer Program. Volunteers may also apply to become a foster to a shelter animal or become a member of the Animal Shelter Advisory Board.

The Volunteer Program Coordinator ensures that these roles are adequately staffed and managed effectively (Tallahassee Animal Shelter, 2024b). They must track the volunteer program's performance and volunteer engagement level, doing so by analyzing qualitative and quantitative volunteer data in their CRM BetterImpact. This position is crucial for maintaining a supportive and productive environment for both the volunteers and the animals they care for. To learn more about the job position and what it entails, our team (consisting of Eboni Jackson, Michael Pritchard, and Rebecca Yost) conducted an interview with Alexis Paulson, TAS's current Volunteer Program Coordinator.

METHODS

Our methodology included a two-faceted approach to data collection, including a synchronous interview as well as a document analysis.

DATA COLLECTION

For this job/task analysis, a narrative inquiry framework was used to understand the function of the Volunteer Program Coordinator in question as it works within the TAS[1]. The goals of the interview were to (1) understand the requirements and skills necessary for an individual to succeed in this role, (2) learn what duties and responsibilities this role is charged with handling, and (3) understand how the [1] We attempted to contact the Leon County Humane Society (LCHS) to continue our work with their organization as we've done in Assignments #1 and #2, however, LCHS is currently closed due to an animal pathogen spread and we were unable to get in contact with their Volunteer Coordinator. We chose to conduct our interview at the Tallahassee Animal Shelter (TAS) as we felt that the positions would have overlap given their geographic area and target populations and that the work difference between government agency and nonprofit would not be so remarkable as to make the job/task analysis wholly unrelated to our work thus far. These two agencies also often work together - For example, LCHS regularly transfers animals from TAS into their adoption program (Leon County Humane Society, 2024).

organization is impacted by the outcomes provided by this role. Alexis Paulson, current Volunteer Program Coordinator, was interviewed by our team (Eboni Jackson, Michael Pritchard, and Rebecca Yost) on Thursday, July 18th, 2024. The interview was conducted via Zoom, and each of the interviewers compiled individual notes

Additionally, other documents and data were provided by the current Volunteer Program Coordinator to our team post-interview to research. These included demographic data, schedule examples, and an organizational chart. These are current as of July 2024, were freely provided by the interviewee, and are attached to this report as appendices.

INTERVIEW PROCESS

Our interviewee from the TAS:

- Interviewee: Alexis Poulsen
- Current job title: Volunteer Program Coordinator
- Time in the role: 6 months
- Interview date: 07/18/2024 (dd/mm/yyyy)

The interviewee was suggested to our team by multiple staff members at TAS. Eboni Jackson contacted them via email and a time was coordinated to meet. The interviewee was briefed pre-interview on the purpose of this job/task analysis and the EME 5601 course. The interview lasted approximately forty-five (45) minutes.

MATERIALS COLLECTED

Post-interview, the following items were sent by Alexis Paulson electronically via email to our team:

1) TAS 2024 Organizational Chart (see Figure 1)
2) TAS 2024 Volunteer Application (see Appendix A)
3) TAS 2024 Volunteer Agreement Form (see Appendix B)
4) TAS 2024 Volunteer Waiver (see Appendix C)
5) TAS 2024 Volunteer Manual (see Appendix D)
6) Example of Volunteer Profile & Data from BetterImpact (TAS' CRM) (see Appendix E)
7) Example of Daily Schedule from BetterImpact (see Appendix F)

These documents were uploaded as print document format (.pdf) files to a shared online repository in Google Drive for our team to access.

QUESTIONS ASKED

During the interview, the following questions were asked:

1. What is your experience/background? How did this prepare you for the major tasks you complete?
2. What is a typical day like for someone in your role?
3. How many volunteers are currently in the program?
4. Do you currently have additional staff members operating the program?
5. What are the available volunteer positions?
6. Are there any requirements to participate? What sort of training do new volunteers receive?
7. What are your primary job tasks and duties?
8. What kind of knowledge, skills, and attitudes are necessary in a volunteer coordinator role?
9. Are there any challenges you may encounter within the program?
10. How do you track and evaluate volunteer performance and engagement? Do you use any tools or systems to manage impact or effectiveness?

There were brief follow-up questions asked based on some answers, including questions regarding the veterinary externship program, the events put on by the TAS, and community response to the TAS and its work.

DATA ANALYSIS

Following the interview, our team compiled our synchronously taken notes into one document and reviewed for common themes and remarkable responses from the interviewee. Once the additional documents were received via email, they were uploaded into a shared documents folder for each of us to review. Finally, we compared responses from the interviewee against data and information available on the TAS website.

JOB/TASK ANALYSIS

The following section details the responsibilities of the volunteer coordinator, as described during the interview.

JOB DESCRIPTION

The City of Tallahassee job specifications sheet for Volunteer Coordinator (Tallahassee Animal Shelter, 2024b) lists two major functions:

APPENDIX B B

CITY OF TALLAHASSEE
ANIMAL SERVICES

VOLUNTEER AGREEMENT

In acting as a VOLUNTEER for the TALLAHASSEE ANIMAL SERVICES (Hereinafter "TAS"), I understand that my services are provided strictly in a voluntary capacity as a VOLUNTEER, and without any express and implied promise of salary, compensation, employment, benefits, including insurance programs, worker's compensation, accrual in any form, vacation, sick time, or other payment of any kind whatsoever.

Please initial each item of the agreement below

____ I agree to familiarize myself and comply with TAS's policies and procedures applicable to volunteers.

____ I understand that I am committing to 8 hours per month of volunteer work, for a minimum of 3 consecutive months. Should I drop below 8 hours a month, I understand it is my responsibility to communicate with the Volunteer Coordinator as to why. Should I fail to communicate this and drop below this minimum requirement, I understand I will be inactivated from the program.

____ I agree to manage my volunteer schedule and shifts using the online volunteer portal, Better Impact or with direct email communication to the Volunteer Coordinator. Should I "no call, no show" to more than 2 shifts or show up consistently late without communication, I may be inactivated from the program.

____ I agree to keep my contact information and emergency contact information up to date in the online volunteer portal, Better Impact, should any of my information change.

____ I understand that it is my responsibility to show initiative while volunteering and be actively participating in the role I am scheduled to serve.

____ I understand that it is my responsibility to ask questions if there is something I don't understand and ask if there is anything I can help with if I feel my duties are complete.

____ I understand that in my volunteering participation, it is expected of me to use reasonable judgment in communicating with the TAS Staff and other volunteers on duty. I agree to minimize conflict, and to the best of my ability, resolve disagreements professionally. If there are any issues that are unable to be resolved, it is my duty to ASAP inform the Volunteer Coordinator, ALEXIS POULSEN.

____TAS maintains high standards of moral and ethical treatment of the animals under its care; therefore, I will support and exercise these standards in my capacity as a Volunteer.

____ As a Volunteer, I understand that there are animals on premise that have a variety of behaviors and backgrounds; I must exercise the utmost care so as not to let any animal come into harm's way of other animals. I also understand I must exercise the utmost care to not be scratched or bitten.

____ If ever an animal is led away to an event off premise by me, it is my sole responsibility to restrain and control the animal so as not to create any dangerous situation.

____ Due to potential health risks of working with animals and the presence of Zoonotic diseases, I agree to practice reasonably healthy hygiene so as not to contract disease or transmit disease to pets outside of the shelter.

____ I understand that while I am on duty, during my volunteer shifts at TAS, I will not keep company of guests, family, minors, etc. on premise.

____It is advised that all volunteers bring a minimum of personal belongings while on duty at TAS. While a small cubby to keep belongings will be provided, everyone is responsible for his or her own belongings. TAS and staff are not responsible for personal belongings.

____ I understand that I am to observe and respect EMPLOYEE-ONLY or OFF-LIMIT AREAS. This means no interaction with these animals, no pictures or videos, and no sharing them and their information with outside parties. These areas include, but are not limited to, "Animal Intake", "Stray Wards", "Sick & Quarantine Areas", "Cat Assessment", and the "Euthanasia Room." Failure to respect these areas could result in discipline and/or termination of volunteer privileges.

____ TAS's Volunteer Coordinator or any Manager, without notice or hearing, reserves the right to terminate my services as a volunteer at any time, with or without reason.

____I understand that the nonrefundable $15 Volunteer Program Fee is to cover the cost of providing uniforms to the volunteers and that once my volunteer time has finished, the uniform must be turned back into the Volunteer Coordinator.

____I accept the fact that some animals will not survive or may have to be euthanized and that this decision is up to the Tallahassee Animal Services' staff and that I will not be notified prior to this occurring.

Welcome Message

Welcome! It takes a special kind of person to seek out an opportunity to donate their own time and energy driven purely by the desire to help animals. THANK YOU for being that person!

We are so excited to have you in our program. The field of Animal Welfare is both challenging and rewarding. We strive to serve our community and advocate for animals who have no one else to advocate for them. As you begin your journey as a volunteer for TAS, I encourage you to continually prioritize safety, respect, and compassion; for the animals we care for, the people you work with, and for yourself.

Alexis Poulsen
Volunteer Coordinator

Our Mission

City Of Tallahassee Mission Statement

We provide excellent services and facilities to support a high quality of life for the community.

Tallahassee Animal Services' Mission Statement

We ensure public safety and the welfare of animals by enforcing animal control regulations and by providing a secure, healthy environment for the animals in our care.

TAS Volunteer Program Mission Statement

We enrich the lives of homeless animals and aim to increase adoption through community involvement and education.

Organizational Values

- Honor public trust through ethical behavior
- Provide exceptional citizen service
- Lead with integrity at every level
- Collaborate to reach common goals
- Invest in employee excellence
- Promote equity and celebrate diversity

Our History

The City of Tallahassee has been involved in animal control activities since 1957 when ordinances were enacted to prevent dogs from running at large and to prevent the majority of farm animals from being within the city limits. (Horses and chickens are notable exceptions to this rule.) In 1965, Tallahassee set up an animal shelter to house strays, sick animals and those deemed to be "running at large". The City operated that shelter, which was located in an industrial area near the municipal airport, until 1972, when the Leon County Humane Society entered into a contract with the City to provide animal control services and to manage the shelter. When it became apparent the shelter was inadequate to serve the needs of the growing animal population, a number of very dedicated groups of citizens worked to build a new shelter. The drive for a new shelter also refocused the animal control mission. The new program included a comprehensive education program driven by the goal of creating a new generation of responsible pet owners in the Tallahassee-Leon County community. Funds for a new animal service center were approved in 1992, and the new facility at 1125 Easterwood Drive opened to the public on September 11, 1996.

Now, the Animal Service Center serves residents of Tallahassee and Leon County with an animal care facility for lost, stray and homeless animals. Locally, it's affectionately dubbed "the animal shelter in Tom Brown Park". The Service Center offers a comprehensive set of services that are designed to benefit animals and the public, to promote responsible pet ownership, and to enhance the human animal bond. Enforcing animal control laws and regulations is a shared responsibility. City animal control officers are responsible for enforcing animal regulations within the city limits; Leon County animal control officers field the calls for areas outside of Tallahassee. Both teams of animal control officers impound animals at Animal Service Center. Animal control officers are on call 24 hours a day to provide service for sick, injured or aggressive animals. ASC is considered an open-admission shelter, as we cannot turn animals away. In addition to strays, owner surrenders and other "typical" means of admission for the usual cats, dogs and rabbits, the shelter has also received ferrets, snakes, hamsters, guinea pigs, hens and roosters, goats, pot-belly pigs, geese and ducks, peacocks, turtles, fish, iguanas, and bearded dragons.

Funding & Support

The Animal Service Center is part of the City of Tallahassee's Parks, Recreation and Neighborhood Affairs Department and is funded by City of Tallahassee & Leon County taxpayer dollars. Some non-profit organizations provide additional funding and support, including:

The Animal Shelter Foundation (ASF): not-for-profit organization that has been created to raise funds for our shelter and is the primary support group for ASC. These funds can then be used to pay for immediate, non-budgeted expenses for the shelter. These funds can also be used to pay for medical expenses needed by adoptable shelter animals; i.e., amputations, heartworm treatments, spay/neuter and corrective surgeries. Please visit their website for more information about ASF or to get involved.

PAL (Pets Ad Litem) is a non-profit organization formed to enhance public awareness of responsible pet ownership; protect the rights and promote the best interests of animals; and to coordinate competent, professional assistance for state and local governments to develop a unified and cohesive team to address animal issues.

The Animal Shelter Advisory Board

The Board is comprised of nine City residents and three County residents. They assist in the development of mission and policies and review and recommend long range planning and budgeting. In addition, they serve as liaisons to the community, increasing support and awareness of Animal Services.

VTV Program

The Vet Team Volunteer program was designed for pre-veterinary students and other individuals with an interest in the veterinary profession. The goal is to allow hands-on experience in the animal field. This program requires a separate application and onboarding process. Read the requirements on the website, and then let your volunteer coordinator know if you would like to apply for this program.

FAMU Program

The FAMU Farm Veterinary Technology Program
Each semester, TAS selects adoptable dogs in-shelter to reside at FAMU's agricultural center in Quincy, which has a nice kennel on a large number of acres and a medical teaching facility for the veterinary technology students. This program is run by veterinarians & provides the dogs with any needed medical care, including heartworm treatment, spays/neuters, skin issues, and other procedures while allowing the students to learn. Dogs are still listed as "adoptable" and people may apply and adopt them upon return after they have been treated for anything they needed.

D.1/D.4

Open vs. Limited Admission Shelters

Limited Admission Shelters

Can stop taking in new animals based on space or resources, may focus solely on specific species, breeds, or needs

Open Admission Shelters

Must admit every animal in their area of responsibility regardless of space or resources, often municipal or contracted with animal control agencies

You might be familiar with the terms "Kill" and "No Kill" shelters. "No-Kill" shelters earn their status by maintaining a live release rate of 90% or higher. However, these labels can sometimes do more harm than good. Shelters labeled as "No-Kill" may achieve this status by turning away animals when full or refusing to take in animals they can't adequately care for. This approach limits options for animals in need.

At the Animal Service Center, we operate as an open admission, municipal shelter. Despite accepting every animal requiring assistance from our community, our live release rate in 2023 stood at 80.5%. This underscores the importance of volunteer, foster, and transfer programs for shelters like ours that accept all animals. Your involvement in these initiatives provides us with the resources necessary to advocate for better outcomes for the animals under our care.

Euthanasia Information

Euthanasia – Definition: The act or practice of putting to death painlessly. Derived from Greek; eu-well and thanatos – death

At the Animal Service Center, euthanasia is performed in accordance with state laws as well as the guidelines set out for Humane Euthanasia in Florida by the Florida Animal Protection and Advocacy Agency. All staff members performing euthanasia are certified euthanasia technicians who have been trained to perform euthanasia in the most humane and respectful way possible.

Euthanasia is performed by injection of a medication that effectively overdoses the animal with anesthetic. The animal may feel some discomfort from the needle initially, but the medication rapidly causes unconsciousness before shutting down all body systems.

As A Volunteer

Volunteers do not take part in euthanasia decisions or euthanasia processes. However, being fully informed about euthanasia and the complexity of it's role in animal welfare is vital. As a volunteer, you may see an animal come in, spend time caring for them, and grow attached before a euthanasia outcome decision is made. This can be a difficult thing to experience. Please talk to your volunteer coordinator about euthanasia questions. If you have a strong bond to a particular animal, be a dedicated advocate for adoption for that animal from the start. Your volunteer coordinator can speak to you about adoption advocacy. While we attempt every avenue we can to avoid euthanasia when possible, including foster care, transfer, and adoption advocacy, volunteers must understand that euthanasia is an important tool that we must use when necessary in the best interest of our community and the quality of life for animals in our care.

Compassion Fatigue in Animal Welfare

Compassion Fatigue: The physical and emotional exhaustion that arises from the constant demand to be compassionate and effective in helping those in need and who are suffering.

Those who work and volunteer in Animal Welfare are at high risk for compassion fatigue, burnout, and mental health affects.

Euthanasia can be a difficult topic of discussion. Those who seek employment, volunteer opportunities, or other roles in Animal Welfare do so because love animals and wish to advocate for positive outcomes for them when possible. It is vital that staff and volunteers have compassion for themselves and each other.

Please note that all TAS staff involved in making euthanasia decisions and euthanizing animals are trained and educated about the specific and complex considerations that go into these decisions. Animal Welfare staff and volunteers can be at high risk of compassion fatigue, stress, and suicide. If you have questions or concerns about euthanasia or begin to feel that your work may be affecting your mental health, talk to your volunteer coordinator to get support and resources.

Talk to your Volunteer Coordinator. They are are prepared to provide education, support and resources

If you have questions or concerns about Euthanasia, please direct your questions to your Volunteer Coordinator.

Any form of harassing, questioning, or belittling staff members about their role in euthanasia is grounds for immediate dismissal as a volunteer.

Zoonotic Diseases

A zoonotic disease is one that can be transmitted from an animal to a person or vice versa

It's important to be aware of potential health risks associated with working closely with animals and consider your personal risk as a volunteer. Zoonotic diseases are illnesses that can be transmitted from animals to humans, and animal shelters can sometimes be breeding grounds for these diseases. Volunteers should take an active role in their own education as well as safety measures to prevent transmission.

PDF: Animal Shelter Operation Guide: Companion Animal Zoonotic Diseases

Understanding Zoonotic Diseases:
Zoonotic diseases are caused by bacteria, viruses, parasites, and fungi that can be transmitted from animals to humans.

Common zoonotic diseases found in animal shelters include ringworm, toxoplasmosis, giardiasis, campylobacteriosis, salmonellosis, and rabies.

Rabies:
Rabies is a deadly viral disease present in saliva that can be prevented but not cured. Rabies is most commonly transmitted through bites or scratches from an infected animal. Rabid animals may be healthy looking and not appear diseased. Raccoons, bats, foxes, and unvaccinated cats are the most frequently reported for rabies in Florida.

Florida Department of Health: Rabies

Volunteers must report any dog bite and any cat bite or scratch that breaks the skin to the volunteer coordinator or shelter manager immediately. These bites/scratches must be reported to the health department and your injury addressed as soon as possible to keep our community safe.

Safety Precautions for Volunteers:

Personal Protective Equipment (PPE):
- Wear gloves when handling animals, cleaning cages, or disposing of waste to minimize direct contact with potentially infectious materials.
- Wear appropriate clothing and footwear that can be easily cleaned and disinfected.

Hand Hygiene:
- Wash hands thoroughly with soap and water before and after handling animals, after cleaning tasks, and before eating or drinking.
- Use hand sanitizers with at least 60% alcohol if soap and water are not available.

Vaccinations:
- Ensure that your tetanus vaccination is up-to-date, as animal scratches or bites can lead to tetanus infections.
- Consider getting vaccinated against other preventable zoonotic diseases, such as rabies (if working with wildlife) and leptospirosis.

Avoiding High-Risk Activities:
- Refrain from eating, drinking, or smoking in areas where animals are housed or cared for.
- Avoid touching your face, eyes, or mouth while handling animals or after touching potentially contaminated surfaces.
- Get properly trained on safe animal handling before interacting with animals to avoid bites and scratches

Understand Your Risk: If you are pregnant, immunocompromised, or have a medical condition that puts you at high risk to contract a zoonotic disease, please discuss your plans to volunteer with your doctor before proceeding. Talk to your Volunteer Coordinator about any concerns.

Level I Volunteers

All volunteers begin at Level 1 and as a Helping Hands Volunteer.

Volunteers at this level participate with:
- Cleaning Kennels
- Feeding Animals
- Laundry & Dishes
- Kennel & Shelter Upkeep
- Daily Enrichment

While you are welcome to move to another Volunteer Level after meeting the requirements, we encourage volunteers to continue to do roles they enjoy no matter what role that is. We also encourage volunteers to prioritize assisting with keeping the shelter running smoothly by checking on laundry, dishes, trashes, and other daily tasks no matter what shift you are signed up for.

Shelter Support Tasks

What needs to be done during your shift can largely depend on what time of day you sign up for shifts. Here is a basic overview of the duties for each Shelter Support shift:

Level II Volunteers

After completing at least one month of Level I and meeting our volunteer expectations, volunteers may request to participate in animal handling training and move up to Level II. Level II opportunities include:

Canine Companion
- Dog Walking
- Dog Enrichment
- Bathing
- Match-making and Adoption Assistance
- Field Trips & Special Events (taking dogs on outings!)
- Playgroup Assistants

Feline Friend
- Kitty Cuddling & Socialization
- Cat Enrichment
- Kitty Kennel Caretaking
- Match-Making and Adoption Help
- Special Events

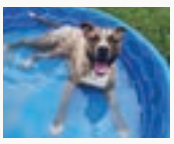

To request to begin training to move to Level II after you meet the requirements, email your Volunteer Coordinator.

Level III & IV Volunteers

Volunteers who receive further training specific to animal behavior, animal training, running playgroups, or other specialized roles can move to Volunteer Level III or IV. The training and structure of these levels are currently under construction, but please reach out to your volunteer coordinator if you are interested in getting involved in a Level III or IV role.

Playgroup Volunteer

Interested in dog behavior? Playgroup volunteers get the opportunity to manage groups of dogs playing for their socialization, physical exercise, and enrichment. Playgroups are fun, interesting, and most importantly, the help our dogs stay relaxed and improve their adoptability. Volunteers can begin participating with Playgroups at Level II in a supportive role and move into more prominent roles with further training.

To learn more about playgroups, visit the DPFL Website.

Volunteer Opportunities

Animal Photographer

Do you have a DSLR camera, a good eye for photos, and a lot of patience? Studies have shown that a great picture on our website can be the key to getting a pet adopted. As an Animal Photographer you will get to:

- Take awesome animal photos with your own DSLR camera
- Upload photos to our database for posting on our website

Adoption Assistance

Volunteers who have received Level II Training can assist with adoption matchmaking. This consists of helping customers find the perfect pet, assisting staff with bringing dogs up for meetings and providing support during Open Kennels. Please talk to your volunteer coordinator for specific training for volunteer Adoption Assistance.

Dog Field Trips

Volunteers who have received Level II Training and are at least 18 years of age can take a dog out of the shelter for a field trip. Please talk to your Volunteer Coordinator for rules, training, and more information regarding Field Trips.

Special Events

Want to help out, but can't make a regular weekly commitment? Consider becoming one of our Special Events Volunteers. Please talk to your volunteer coordinator for more information!

Advisory Board

The Animal Shelter Advisory Board is always looking for new applicants for membership. The best way to advocate for the shelter in a big-picture way is for citizens to get involved, go to meetings and voice their suggestions.

Advisory Board Information

Leadership Team

Individuals in the volunteer program who demonstrate exceptional volunteer service and model ideal volunteer values and expectations may be invited to serve on the Volunteer Leadership Team.

Team Leaders: Volunteer Leadership Team leaders meet regularly with the Volunteer Coordinator to strengthen the volunteer program, brainstorm new ideas, discuss program improvements, and represent their fellow volunteers.

Volunteer Mentors: Volunteer mentors assist with onboarding and training new volunteers in their respective roles. Volunteer Mentors do not have to commit to more volunteer hours, but will work with the Volunteer Coordinator and Team Leaders to arrange for new volunteers to shadow them during their shifts to learn tasks and roles when needed.

WCTV Handler

Each week on Wednesday mornings, WCTV comes to the shelter to feature four adoptable dogs on their Furry Friday segment. Level II Dog handlers are needed to help walk dogs while they are videoed and photographed.

Volunteer Expectations

Compassionate Care

Treat all animals with kindness and respect

Personal Responsbility

Be dependable, honest kind, and open minded

Professionalism

Your actions as a volunteer represent TAS, please be professional

Staff Support

Follow direction from staff, support them in their mission, and celebrate common goals

Safety First

Follow all safety protocols and directions from staff. Request training if needed to avoid unsafe situations

Safety For Everyone

Be kind, compassionate, inclusive, and respectful to yourself, other volunteers, staff, and customers

Volunteer Dress Code

At all times while volunteering, volunteers must:

-Wear their volunteer t-shirts in a way that makes them identifiable
-Wear closed-toe shoes that protect the feet
-Wear long pants with no rips or holes that protect the extremities as much as reasonably possible. Shorts that reach the knee may be permitted strictly for dog walking volunteers in the summer months with prior permission.
-Wear clothing that is professional, neat, clean, and functional
-In cold months, please wear your volunteer t-shirt over sweaters and hoodies so that you are still identifiable as a volunteer.

If you arrive for your volunteer shift wearing inappropriate attire, you will be asked to leave, and return only when you are dressed according to the above policy.

-Please take good care of your volunteer t-shirt. T-shirts must be returned when moving to a new volunteer level or leaving the program. Do not cut, dye or otherwise permanently alter your t-shirt.

-Please remember that while identifiable as a volunteer, you represent both Tallahassee Animal Services and The City of Tallahassee. Volunteers should act professionally at all times they are identifiable as a volunteer.

-Your Program Fee covers one t-shirt per volunteer. Additional t-shirts are available for a $15 uniform fee.

Volunteer Responsibilities

Communication

Tallahassee Animal Services relies on volunteers for a variety of roles that directly affect our ability to give our animals better quality of life, provide better assistance with adoption, and maintain shelter operations. Therefore, we expect all volunteers to demonstrate consistent and clear communication with regard to any issues that affect their scheduled shifts. In addition, if you are unsure or uncomfortable with anything during your volunteer time with us, it is your responsibility to communicate that to the Volunteer Coordinator so that the issue can be discussed and resolved.

Attendance

Tallahassee Animal Services receives many applications to volunteer, year-round. We only have the resources to bring on so many volunteers and train them adequately. Because of this, participation in our program is a privilege and it is your responsibility to arrive on time for your volunteer shift. If you are unable to arrive on time, please email to let us know when you will be arriving. If you are unable to keep a scheduled volunteer shift, please remove yourself from the scheduled shift online. If it is the day-of, you will need to email the Volunteer Coordinator to communicate you cannot make it.

Time Commitment

All volunteers are required to complete at least 8 hours of volunteer work per month. While this usually equates to one, 2-hour shift 4 weeks a month, it is still your responsibility to make sure you are meeting this each month should you have to rearrange your schedule. Please reach out to the Volunteer Coordinator if there are circumstances outside your control that will affect your ability to reach your 8 hour commitment in a specific month.

Private Information

As a volunteer, you may have access to private information. This could include information in our system about adopters, animal control cases, other volunteers, and staff members. Never share case details, info about unavailable animals, or other sensitive information. If you are unsure what information is appropriate to share, please ask the Volunteer Coordinator.

Social Media

As a volunteer with Tallahassee Animal Services, you are a representative of our agency to our community. If you post publicly as a known volunteer, be aware of that responsibility, What you share will reflect back on TAS and can affect our reputation and relationship with the community.

If you post about your volunteer work or animal welfare, seek to educate and advocate rather than condemn or manipulate. Never share information about animal control cases, private adopter information, or information/photos of animals not currently adoptable or legally ours.

As representatives of Tallahassee Animal Services, volunteers on social media should:

- Uphold our mission of compassion and responsible pet ownership.
- Educate and advocate positively for animal welfare.
- Conduct themselves ethically, avoiding harassment or misinformation.
- Respect privacy by not sharing confidential information.
- Maintain professionalism in all online interactions.
- Report any concerns promptly to the Volunteer Coordinator.

Self Motivation

Please stay busy during your shift. If you complete a task, find something new to work on. The Volunteer Task List is helpful for finding needed tasks. If you take a short break, please do so outside of the view of the public (Volunteer room and picnic tables outside to the back of the building are good options) and clock out if you're taking more than 10 minutes away from volunteer tasks. If you're not sure what to do, please ask your Volunteer Coordinator.

Flexibility

You may sign up for a shift to do one set of tasks but come in to find that a different task is most needed, or there is catch up work to be done from the day before. Please be flexible and willing to take on tasks that need to be done and follow directions from staff. Learn how the shelter runs and look for ways to assist outside of what is listed in your shift description.

Volunteer Rights

Safe Environment

You have the right to be safe and comfortable while volunteering at the Animal Service Center. If you have any concerns about your safety (physical, medical, etc.) or are uncomfortable at the Animal Service Center, please discuss your feelings with the Volunteer Coordinator.

Respect

You have the right to be respected. You are a valued member of our team. If you have any concerns, please discuss them with the Volunteer Coordinator.

Education

You have the right to ask questions, read articles, research cases, request further training, and continue to learn. While we do have limited staff resources, you are always welcome to go to your Volunteer Coordinator with any questions and for more educational resources.

Pregnancy Safety

Pregnancy and Volunteer Right to Know
Some of the chemicals you may be exposed to throughout the course of the workday can be harmful to a developing baby. If you suspect or know that you are pregnant, please inform the Volunteer Coordinator. You will be counseled on the potential hazards at Animal Service Center and modifications to your volunteer duties will be discussed. Our main concern is the safety and health of you and your baby during your pregnancy.

LOR's and References

Letters of Recommendation: Many of our former volunteers have gone on to attend graduate programs, vet school, or other animal-related pursuits. We are happy to write letters of recommendation for volunteers who have spent at least 6 months with us. To request a letter of recommendation, please contact the Volunteer Coordinator.

References: The Volunteer Coordinator can provide a reference for you for academic and professional pursuits. They are also happy to assist with career building skills like resume editing, if time allows. Reach out to the Volunteer Coordinator for availab provi

Transparency

We value transparency and communication. Our Shelter Statistics are public information. You can find them on our website here:
Shelter Statistics

If you have questions about statistics, outcomes, or any part of animal welfare in a shelter environment, your Volunteer Coordinator is a vital resource and always ready to discuss these topics with you.
Please prioritize transparency and communication in return, and talk about your experience, questions, or concerns with the Volunteer Coordinator directly.

D.3/D.4

Volunteer Procedures

No Call, No Show

If you miss a volunteer shift and do not let us know in advance, you may receive a written warning. If it happens a second time, we may need to remove you from the program as reliability is something we need from our volunteers.

Punctuality

Arriving 15 minutes or more past a scheduled shift is considered late. If you are going to be late, please email the Volunteer Coordinator to communicate this. Three or more instances of late arrival (without communication) may result in dismissal from the program.

Hours Verification

You may request a letter from the Volunteer Coordinator verifying your volunteer status and hours. Please plan ahead and ask in advance for hours verification requests. If you need your hours verified on a regular basis or by a strict deadline, please communicate this in advance with the Volunteer Coordinator, as they may be unable to assist with last-minute requests.

Schedule

- Volunteers will use the MyImpact Website or App for managing their schedule. See next page for detailed instructions.
- All volunteers may either choose a regular, reoccurring schedule or manage it themselves shift by shift.
- Volunteers may sign up and remove themselves from shifts, as they wish.
- All volunteers are responsible for at least 8 hours of volunteer service per month.
- All volunteers are required to be on the schedule before clocking in. Note that you may add yourself to the schedule up to the start of the shift, but please do not clock in if you are not on the schedule.
- Volunteers are expected to manage their shifts appropriately; if you need to change something, you may. If the shift is that day, please email the Volunteer Coordinator to let them know you can't make it.

Clocking In/Out

Once at the shelter for the scheduled shift, volunteers must clock in and out using the computer in the Volunteer Room. Volunteers are responsible for clocking in and out; if you forget, you may not receive credit for hours worked.

You will use your MyImpact username to clock in and out.

If you experience technical difficulties that prevent you from clocking in or out, please email the Volunteer Coordinator for assistance.

Volunteer Termination and Resignation Policy

The Volunteer Coordinator, or any manager at ASC, reserves the right to separate a volunteer from the program at any time.

Reasons for inactivation could include:
• Inappropriate behavior
• Unsatisfactory performance
• Not meeting minimum hour requirements
• 2 or more "no call, no shows"
• Chronic lateness or scheduling conflicts

If a volunteer is demonstrating unsatisfactory performance, the Volunteer Coordinator will notify the Volunteer in writing. If the behavior continues, an in-person conversation will need to take place. If nothing changes, the volunteer will be dismissed.

Reason for immediate dismissal could include but are not limited to:
• Inhumane or mistreatment of any animal
• Stealing or dishonesty
• Deliberate destruction of shelter or employee property
• Impolite or belligerent attitude when dealing with the public or staff
• Possession, drinking, or being under the influence of alcohol or illegal substances
• Insubordination
• Possession of unauthorized weapons
• Blatant disregard for shelter policies and procedures

If you would like to Resign as a Volunteer:
Contact your Volunteer Coordinator. Consider sharing feedback about why you are leaving and your experience as a volunteer. We understand that things change, and you may be unable to continue volunteering. You may also request a short-term inactivation if you plan to return in the future to avoid having to re-apply.
